

820 Oliver St.

820 Oliver St., this 637-foot, 50-story tower is among the tallest residential buildings in Los Angeles, California. Located within walking distance from Staples Center, L.A. Live, and the Broadway. It was designed by Chris Dikeakos Architects. At the time of its completion, it became the tallest residential tower in California

This project was completed 2018 with 4,500 square feet ground floor commercial space, and 516 units residential area design. Shurjoint products were used on both mechanical and plumbing systems.

location

Los Angeles

U.S.A

year

2018 application

HVAC

product line

VSH Shurjoint

architect

Residential / Commercial