

South Creek Landing Condos

Designed to be commercial and residential mixed-use, South Creek Landing Condos is an avant-garde building form of cascading post-tensioned concrete cantilever floors and a layered screen façade that reflects light and distorts the boundaries between interior and exterior. This project boasts a number of design “firsts” for the architectural typology.

Shurjoint products were used on South Creek Landing Condo’s domestic water supply systems.

location

Vancouver, BC

Canada

year

2014 application

HVAC

product line

VSH Shurjoint

architect

Residential / Commercial