

National Health Research Institutes

The NHRI uses Shurjoint Stainless #SS-7X, #SS-10, Ductile Iron #7771, and #7110 24" couplings for its HVAC and water supply systems.

The National Health Research Institutes (NHRI) is a non-profit foundation established by the government in 1995, and located at Chu-Nan Taiwan, about a 50 minute drive from Taipei. Constructed in an active seismic zone, protecting priceless scientific equipments required an HVAC and Water Supply System that offered unparalleled reliability. Shurjoint products were specified and installed to provide that reliability.

location

Chu-Nan, Taiwan

year

2004

application

HVAC

productline

VSH Shurjoint

architect

Building

